The light conditions were back again today with the wind starting in the North West and moving to the South West in the afternoon. At times the wind was coming from both directions depending on where the yachts were on the course. A strange sight today was seeing a pelican and cormorant fishing in very close proximity for a long time - and no, the pelican did not eat the shag! In the Soling One Meter class the day winners were tied, however, on a countback Robert (12 points) came in first with Sid second (12 points) and Maurice third (18 points). In the 10 Raters the day was won by Sid (12 points) with Ian second (17 points) and Maurice third (18 points). This brings us to the end of these events for 2007 and the results are very close at the top end. It will be interesting to see who wins once drops are taken into consideration.
